

POLITICAL SCIENCE

DEPARTMENT OF POLITICAL SCIENCE

In 2014, CEU remained among the world's top 100 universities for political science and international relations in the Quacquarelli Symonds (QS) rankings and among the best on the European continent. The political science program was also ranked in the top ("excellence") group of European universities in the survey by the German Center for Higher Education Development (CHE). The department focuses on several areas of political science with a special emphasis on comparative politics. The curriculum examines questions of political theory, democratization, constitutional politics, political economy, mass media, electoral behavior, party politics, research methodology, and European politics.

CAREER PATH

Graduates of the department pursue doctoral and postdoctoral studies at leading European and U.S. universities and find employment in politics, political analysis, the news media, civil service, international NGOs, research organizations, business, and government.

JULIANE SOPHIE STEIN

COUNTRY OF ORIGIN: GERMANY

"One of my major motivations for choosing CEU's Department of Political Science was the attractive combination of excellence in teaching and research on the one hand, and the good range of scholarships on the other. The diversity in terms of both methods and topics investigated, which is reflected in both the wide-ranging curriculum and the diverse faculty, appealed to me. The personal contact with the faculty helps bring out the best in each of us and my classmates, too, have been particularly helpful in forming my academic thesis. They never tire of raising critical questions and giving valuable advice"

MASTER OF ARTS IN POLITICAL SCIENCE (ONE YEAR)

The program offers a comprehensive and interdisciplinary curriculum in contemporary political issues and research methods and places emphasis on comparative politics and political economy, normative political theory, and the study of democracy. Wide-ranging courses in these fields of the discipline are offered.

MASTER OF ARTS IN POLITICAL SCIENCE (TWO YEARS)

The program is designed for students with a three-year bachelor's degree in political science or a related discipline. Students have the opportunity to explore comparative politics, political economy, political communication, political theory, and quantitative and qualitative research methods.

DOCTOR OF PHILOSOPHY IN POLITICAL SCIENCE

The doctoral program is operated by the Doctoral School of Political Science, Public Policy, and International Relations. The program prepares students for careers in research and university-level teaching. Research areas include comparative politics, political theory, political economy, international relations, and public policy.
